SECTION II

DESCRIPTION OF THE OBJECT OF THE COMPETITION

1. OBJECT OF THE COMPETITION AND ASSUMPTIONS AND GUIDELINES FOR THE COMPETITION

CONCEPTUAL DESCRIPTION

The object of the competition consists in an Architectural Concept for the European Film Center CAMERIMAGE (ECFC) Building in Toruń, including land development.

The Organizer expects the Participants to present a modern, extraordinary design reflecting the unfettered imaginations of their authors in their architectural expression, just like film art consistently pursues unpredictability and authenticity.

The building and its development should fulfill the expectations of users with an elevated sense of aesthetics, a building whose functional and spatial solutions will avoid the clichés and derivative ideas which are normally attributed to festival venues.

The new ECFC Building will be situated in direct vicinity of the Old Town in Toruń, which is listed by UNESCO as a World Heritage Site. Therefore, the new architecture of the ECFC Building should propose innovative and original form, while considering the high rank of the Old Town, yet avoiding historical pastiche.

The presence of the ECFC Building should serve to complement and creatively expand on the existing structure of this part of the city.

The land development around the ECFC Building is to attract cultural events to the Jordanki area, together with neighboring cultural facilities, such as the Center of Contemporary Art in Toruń (CSW) and the CKK Jordanki Congress and Culture Center, as well as the Marshal's Office of the Kujawsko-Pomorskie Voivodeship building, which is also important to the region, due to its function. Additionally, the institution is also planning to add a new building at the back of the existing CSW venue. It will be situated in direct vicinity to the ECFC site.

The location of the new ECFC Building offers many advantages, one of them being a green belt on the northern and western side of the site which, as planned by Toruń officials, is to serve as an attractive green space complementing the cultural offer of the institutions situated in the Jordanki area, constituting an integral extension of their functions. This green zone is expected to be enriched to include new forms in the ECFC area, including gardens and green roofs (particularly from the northern side).

It is the intention of the Organizer and the City of Toruń, which has actively participated in the ECFC investment, to create a center for cultural events in the Jordanki area, a melting pot for art initiatives, as well as a friendly and welcoming space. Authorial proposals for the ECFC concept should therefore aim to create interiors with a user-friendly atmosphere but an elegant and stately appeal (particularly the Festival Center), which, together with the yard surrounded by culturally significant buildings, would create the “salon” of Toruń. Creating a grand square will integrate the existing buildings and will serve as the place where cinema personalities and the participants of other cultural events will be welcomed with splendor. A grand entrance to the Festival Center should be designed on the building’s axis, e.g. by reflecting certain canonical solutions which have already been applied in the entrance areas to similar festival venues and palaces in the world.

COMPETITION DESIGN AREA AND INVESTMENT AREA

The competition design area is located in Toruń, in the so-called Jordanki area.

Historically speaking, the Jordanki district was a suburb of the medieval city of Toruń, occupied by the city’s defensive wall and moat, which were later transformed into stronghold fortifications. In the 19th and 20th centuries, the area was converted into a so-called perimeter park belt - together with a new road system - encircling the Old Town.

The investment will be implemented on:

- a) the Organizer’s own lots, i.e. lots 6/18, 6/20 and 6/22 in district 14, of ca. 1.85 ha in total area,
- b) partially on fragments of record parcels which the Organizer will acquire from the City of Toruń for investment purposes, i.e. part of lot no. 6/10, part of lot no. 6/21 and lot no. 6/9 and 6/17 of ca. 0.55 ha in total area.

All of the aforementioned record parcels or parts thereof comprise the scope of the competition design (marked in Appendix 7a to the Regulations), of ca. 2.4 ha in total area.

This area should be adopted in the balance of the investment site development design at the stage of the competition design.

Since the area encompassing the record parcels listed in pt. b) are situated outside the Organizer’s own premises and are currently used for other purposes, there are some investment limitations in place in these lots, which were described and illustrated in Fig. 2 in Appendix 7b to the Regulations.

ASSUMED PROGRAM AND FUNCTIONS OF THE ECFC BUILDING AND DEVELOPMENT

According to the Organizer’s assumptions, the ECFC building and its development should include the following, main functional and program zones:

1. Festival center - a grant auditorium with a house, foyer with exclusive exhibition functions, front desks, box offices and other.
2. Market - exhibition and fair space devoted to cinematic products and technologies.
3. The House of Cinema: Museum / Art Gallery - exhibition halls dedicated to widely understood cinematic art (also design).
4. The House of Cinema: Cinema auditoriums - 3 projection halls of different size.

5. Education center - space dedicated to film education, trainings, workshops, presentations of film arts, techniques and technology.
6. Studio - space dedicated to film production (sound studio, wardrobes, post-production - editing rooms, etc.).
7. Underground garage - at level -1 and, optionally, at level -2, the viability of which should be studied as part of the design.
8. A grand, spacious square - in front of the ECFC Building.

Apart from these basic spaces, the building must also include their components: the foyer, a café, bars, a restaurant, cloak rooms, front desks, ECFC administration, VIP zones, conference rooms, a media zone with a press center, thematic film shops and a museum, amenity rooms, archives, storage halls, toilets, technical rooms, pathways and other.

COMMUNICATION INSIDE THE ECFC BUILDING - GENERAL PRINCIPLE

It is the intention of the Organizer to be able to connect all functional zones of the entire ECFC architectural complex using common, internal communication paths during major events (e.g. the CAMERIMAGE Festival). If several events by several organizers are held at the ECFC at the same time, it should be possible to separate the individual event zones (create separate, closed zones, accessible only from the square, via external communication, e.g. when an opening of a design exhibition in the house of cinema is held concurrently with a film music concert in the festival center, or an art fair in the market, a film school shoot and a TV program recording in the studio's sound hall).

DESIGN GUIDELINES AND ASSUMPTIONS

In preparing the Competition, the Organizer ordered a communication analysis for the competition design area, as well as a capacity analysis for the pursued functional and spatial program, including an estimate of the costs to complete the Investment. These studies were consulted on by the City of Toruń. These analyses produced an Investment program which includes indications for the locations of individual functional and program zones in the context of the investment lot, and optimal capacities for servicing all communications within the Investment.

Since the communication analysis indicated that the ECFC parking service could be provided at level -1 only, the Organizer made a decision to add level -2 as an optional solution. At the competition stage, Participants should propose level -2 of the underground garage as an element of a studied concept, without requiring its implementation for the correct functioning of the ECFC Building. The Organizer will make a decision about whether to build the -2 level at a later stage of design works, considering the economic aspects of the Investment and the actual demand of the city of Toruń for parking spots in this part of the Old Town.

However, if a Competition participant proposes a different arrangement of the building's usable space, which will propose an increased number of parking spots required to service the ECFC Investment, the Organizer shall admit the -2 garage level for partial implementation, in that those parking spots which have not fitted in the space of the -1 level will be located there.

The area is covered with an existing zoning plan, but due to the ECFC Investment, officials decided to develop a new one. The result is a zoning plan (MPZP) approved on December 21, 2020 (decision no. ZN/443/2020) by the Regional Monument Conservator for the Kujawsko-Pomorskie Voivodeship. The draft plan is included in Appendix 7c to the Regulations and its guidelines should be made available when designing the ECFC Building and developing the Jordanki area. Information from the Toruń City Hall on the interpretation of the provisions of the Zoning Plan concerning the number of parking spots (Appendix 7h to the Regulations) may be useful. The Appendix contains a model calculation of the number of parking spots for the ECFC Investment, assuming a hypothetical functional program. The proposed number shall however not be construed as binding number for Competition Participants.

Location guidelines and a detailed program of the ECFC Building, including a description of the mutual connections between individual spaces and functional elements are presented in Appendix 7b to the Regulations.

The Investment site's close proximity to the Old Town is an important issue, which affects the location of the ECFC Building on the lot, and thus the organization of program zones within the ECFC Building. Therefore, the zoning plan also specifies a zone for exhibiting the Old Town Complex profile, and thus imposes certain height limitations. Participants should take this fact into consideration in their studies. It should be assumed that the section of the Main Auditorium of the Festival Center with the main stage will be the tallest point of the ECFC Building.

The Organizer also provided a study containing a communication analysis (Appendix 7d to the Regulations) for reference.

The above-stated guidelines and assumptions should be treated as solutions which are indicated and preferred by the Organizer, but should not limit the creative process of Competition participants in their pursuit of even better and more optimal solutions.

The Organizer admits certain tolerances in the size of a given program at the following levels:

- for the Festival Center's Main Auditorium: - +/-5%,
- for the remaining ECFC Building program - +/- 15%, maintaining the recommended functionality of the building space and the land development.

In order to facilitate the integration of cultural buildings situated in the Jordanki area, i.e. CKK Jordanki and CSW, the Organizer agreed on with their users or owners on the possibility of connecting all buildings at various levels. In the case of the CSW building, the plan is to connect the -1 level of the CSW and ECFC underground garage and to use the existing entrance to the CSW underground garage as an entrance to the ECFC underground garage. The second link between the buildings is planned at level +1 through a link entering the fragment of the ECFC building situated in lot no. 6/20, on the western facade of the newly designed CSW building (the exact location of the entry of the link into the newly designed CSW building is presented in Appendix 7g to the Regulations). In the case of the CKK Jordanki building, the plan is to have these two buildings connected at the -1 underground garage level and, as with the CSW building, to use the entrance to the CKK Jordanki underground garage as the entrance to the ECFC underground garage. Access to the square in front of the ECFC building and to the building will be provided under an easement on lots no. 6/2 and 7/1.

The Organizer expects that the ECFC Building will be environmentally-friendly, provide a high comfort of use, guarantee proper health conditions and achieve high energy efficiency.

Further to the above, Competition Participants should consider some key issues related to the pro-ecological aspect of the Investment, such as:

- method of use of the existing green elements and development of new green areas (including green roofs, green facades, etc.),
- method of management of rainwater,
- communication and traffic solutions and the related traffic volume,
- solutions which lower the carbon footprint in the building's life cycle,
- glazing solutions to ensure contact with the environment and natural lighting, and limiting the risk of occurrence of excessive temperatures,
- quality of details, reducing the thermal bridging effect,
- material and technical solutions applied in basic external partitions,
- the use of ecological sources of energy, including RES,
- solutions which ensure the high quality of indoor air,
- energy-saving, friendly, warm indoor lighting.

Competition Participants shall be free to select adequate solutions and determine their efficacy, taking into account the aforementioned guidelines.

DIVISION OF THE INVESTMENT INTO PHASES

The Investment consisting in the construction of the ECFC Building will be divided into two phases, which should be taken into consideration when developing the competition design.

Phase I concerns the construction of a Studio in the southeastern corner of the area belonging to the Organizer, the majority of which constitutes record parcel no. 6/22. Access to this building will be provided through the existing access road from ul. Wały gen. Władysława Sikorskiego (or, possibly, from the North, through the existing entrance to the CKK Jordanki area).

Phase II concerns the construction of the building containing the remaining ECFC program, i.e. the Festival Center, the Market, the House of Cinema, the Education Center and the underground garages, as well as the development of the entire area around the ECFC.

The designer should incorporate a connection of the Studio with the building to be erected under Phase II of the Investment.

SECTION IV

EVALUATION OF THE STUDIES

1. CRITERIA FOR EVALUATING THE STUDIES

The Studies shall be evaluated according to the following criteria of equal significance:

- a) Attractiveness of proposed architectural and land development solutions,
- b) Functional efficiency of the building,
- c) Functional efficiency of the land development and accuracy of the context with the ECFC building and its environment.

2. EVALUATION PROCEDURE

- 2.1. Studies shall be evaluated by the Competition Jury, during classified sessions aimed to verify the compliance of the Studies with the terms of reference and substantive requirements of the Regulations, and to evaluate the Studies against the criteria listed in item 1 of this Section.
- 2.2. The Competition Jury shall evaluate the Studies according to individual evaluation criteria, as well as holistically, following the principle of integrity of individual characteristics of architectural designs and land development.

Principles of evaluation, grading and qualification of Studies to Phase II

Any Study which is found to be non-compliant with the terms and conditions of the Regulations shall not be evaluated.

Evaluation of Studies shall consist in the analysis of their design and functional solutions against the relevant evaluation criteria. After that, each Jury Member authorized to evaluate Studies shall cast a vote (grade) during an open or secret ballot.

In subsequent ballots, each of the Jury Members shall have a number of votes which matches the number of Studies to be evaluated, whereas it is assumed that 1 vote is equivalent to 1 grading point.

In evaluating Studies, Jury Members may not cast their votes (points) on a given Study, or may cast only one vote (point) for one Study.

Studies with the lowest number of votes (points) will not be qualified to the next phase. The Competition Jury shall decide on the number of votes (points) deciding on the qualification of Studies to further evaluation.

The number of ballots shall depend on the number of Studies qualified to further evaluation, and on whether these Studies have fulfilled the criteria for evaluation and were found to comply with the Regulations.

In subsequent ballots, all Studies which received the least number of votes (points) will be eliminated, leading to the selection of the best Studies which, in the opinion of the Competition Jury, fulfill the conditions for qualification to Phase II of the Competition. After that, the Competition Jury shall proceed to the final vote to select five (5) Competition Studies to qualify to Phase II of the Competition. The final ballot may include two, three or more votes, depending on the consensus among Jury Members in their selection of the best Studies.

- 2.3. Minutes describing the activities of the Competition Jury shall be drawn up from the session. The minutes shall include a justification for the selection of five (5) Studies and a ranking of all evaluated Studies.
- 2.4. If the identity of any of the Competition Participants is revealed to the Competition Jury members at no fault of the Competition Participant, and if this does not result in the assignment of Competition Participant's data to a specific Study (Study de-anonymization), each of the Competition Jury members shall submit a statement of the absence of premises or circumstances which could hinder their objectivity and impartiality in the evaluation of Competition Studies. If, in the opinion of any Jury member, such premises exist with respect to a de-anonymized Competition Participant, then this Competition Participant shall be excluded from the competition according to the statement of the absence of circumstances referred to in article 109 item 1 of the Act with respect to the Competition Jury. Before proceeding with the exclusion referred to above, the Principal's Manager shall have the right to request an explanation from the Competition Participant.
- 2.5. After evaluating the Studies and after selecting 5 Studies qualified to Phase II of the Competition, the Competition Jury shall draw up:
 - a. a list of Studies, together with their ranking, including an indication of those Studies which were qualified to Phase II of the Competition,

The authors of five (5) best Studies which were qualified to Phase II of the Competition, who submitted pertinent applications for admission to participate in the competition, shall be individually notified by the Organizer who shall also publish this information on the Competition Website.

With respect to the principle of anonymity of Competition Participants and Competition Studies submitted by them for evaluation by the Competition Jury, the Organizer shall not announce the names of the Competition Participants whose studies were qualified to Phase II of the Competition, providing only the numbers of these Studies, which were assigned by the Participants.

2.2. The Competition Jury shall evaluate the Competition Designs according to individual evaluation criteria, as well as holistically, following the principle of integrity of individual characteristics of architectural designs and land development.

Criteria for evaluation, grading and selection of the winning Design

Any Competition Design which is found to be non-compliant with the terms and conditions of the Regulations shall not be evaluated.

Evaluation of Competition Design shall consist in the analysis of their solutions against the relevant evaluation criteria. After that, each Jury Member authorized to evaluate Competition Designs shall cast a vote (grade) during an open or secret ballot.

In subsequent ballots, each of the Jury Members shall have a number of votes which matches the number of Competition Designs to be evaluated, whereas it is assumed that 1 vote is equivalent to 1 grading point.

In evaluating Competition Designs, Jury Members may not cast their votes (points) on a given Competition Design. Each Jury Member may cast only one vote (point) on one Competition Design.

Competition Designs with the lowest number of votes (points) will not be qualified to further evaluation. The Competition Jury shall decide on the number of votes (points) deciding on the qualification of Competition Designs to further evaluation.

The number of ballots shall depend on the number of Competition Designs qualified to further evaluation, and on whether these Designs have fulfilled the criteria for evaluation and were found to comply with the Regulations.

In subsequent ballots, the Designs which received the least number of votes (points) will be eliminated, leading to the selection of the best Competition Designs which, in the opinion of the Competition Jury, fulfill the conditions for being awarded the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Prize. After that, the Competition Jury shall proceed to the final vote to select the best Competition Designs. The final ballot may include two, three or more votes, depending on the consensus among Jury Members in their selection of the best Competition Design, e.g. a separate vote on the winner of the 1st Prize, and separate votes on the winners of the 2nd and 3rd Prize.

Competition Designs. If, in the opinion of any Jury member, such premises exist with respect to a de-anonymized Competition Participant, then this Competition Participant shall be excluded from the competition according to the statement of the absence of circumstances referred to in article 109 item 1 of the Act with respect to the Competition Jury. Before proceeding with the exclusion referred to above, the Principal's Manager shall have the right to request an explanation from the Competition Participant.
